CHAPTER 5 – VALIDATION/VERIFICATION EXECUTION

The team reviews the documents to ensure that they meet the criteria of the agreed audit. Following the document review, the team identifies additional questions and issues (aspects and objective evidence) that need to be addressed with the organisation.

Verification of processes

The process normally also demands an on-site assessment, in relation to the nature of the necessary insights. This on-site assessment involves:

- A review of information flows for generating the reporting parameters;
- Interviews with relevant personnel;
- A cross-check between information provided in the report and data from other sources;
- A review of calculations and assumptions made.

The date of the on-site assessment is agreed with the organisation sufficiently in advance and officially confirmed at least one week before.

Internal Verification Report

Throughout the verification process, RINA records the important aspects of the different stages in the internal verification report. Any verification findings are recorded in the “Management of findings” section and are classified according to the definitions given below.

- «misstatement» means an omission, misrepresentation or error in the reported data;
- «material misstatement» means a misstatement that, in the opinion of the verifier, individually or when taken together with other misstatements, exceeds the materiality level;
- «recommendation» is a recommendation for improvement.

The internal verification report contains:

- the results of the verification activities performed;
- results of the independent review of the internal verification documentation.

RINA does not normally give the organization the internal verification report, unless specifically requested. In the case of findings, only the pertinent section is given to the organization so that they can be dealt with, also from a document point of view and formally.

CHAPTER 6 – DECISION AND ISSUE OF THE VALIDATION/VERIFICATION STATEMENT

The Internal Verification Report and the Verification Report are subjected to an independent technical review to ensure that the verification process is conducted in accordance with the agreed criteria/requirements that the procedures for verification activities have been correctly carried out and that due professional care and judgement has been applied.

Once the verification process has been completed a verification report that complies with the verification criteria/requirement of the agreed scheme is issued.

RINA sends the Verification Report to the organisation.
